Icon of Our Lady of Perpetual Help

The CHURCH OF SAINT ALPHONSUS LISUORI is a standout among Rome's many churches. Built between 1855 and 1859, it is one of the last papal churches and is located in the Merulana district of Rome. The church's apse has been crowned by a mosaic of Christ the Redeemer, and on either side are the Virgin Mary and Saint Joseph. Below this mosaic, in the main altar, is the original icon of OUR LADY OF PERPETUAL SUCCOUR or OUR LADY OF PERPETUAL HELP.

In the upper right corner of the icon, the Archangel Gabriel holds the Cross and nails of the crucifixion. In the left corner, the Archangel Michael clasps the spear, vinegar-soaked sponge and crown of thorns. MARY presents the Christ Child to signify He is true God and true man. As He contemplates His Passion, His torment is visible in the loss of one sandal. He grasps Mary's hand for consolation as He gazes in awe towards the Archangel. Our Lady is looking at us with compassion, not at Jesus. The Archangels' instruments and the golden backgrounds of the icon convey Christ's victory over sin, death and resurrection. An eight-pointed star on Mary's veil indicates that She is the Star of the Sea, the Mother of God, and our mother.

The history of the image is full of intrigue, theft and war. It is also the subject of many apparitions of Our Lady. Legend has it that Saint Lazarus, a ninth-century Byzantine saint, painted it on wood in an Eastern Orthodox monastery (dedicated to the Virgin Mary) in Heraklion, Crete. An Italian Franciscan, who visited Crete in 1415, declared the icon divine and miraculous. The icon was taken to the CHURCH OF SAINT ALPHONSUS LIGUORI on April 26, 1866.

Miracles began to happen as soon as the icon was displayed. Shortly after, a new, large church was constructed because of the zeal of the devotees. Thirty-five recoveries were reported in the first six months of 1885 which were beyond medical explanation.

Our Lady of Perpetual Help is one of Italy's most beloved icons of the Virgin Mary. Her feast day is celebrated on 27 June.

LESSON OF TIME – KARMA

When a bird is alive, it eats ants.

When the bird is dead, ants eat the bird.

Time and circumstances can change at any time.

Don't devalue or hurt anyone in life.

You may be powerful today, but remember,

Time is more powerful than you.

One tree makes a million match sticks

But only one match is needed to burn a million trees.

So be good and do good.
